SEVERAL AUSTRALIAN security companies seeking to boost export income will be exhibiting at the Safety and Security Asia conference and trade show to be held in Singapore later this year.

Recognized as one of the major security exhibitions in the world, it attracts thousands of international visitors with more than 50 per cent of attendees coming from regional countries such as Malaysia, Indonesia, Taiwan, the Philippines and Vietnam. The event, held from October 31 to November 2 incorporates the Homeland Security Asia technology and equipment exhibition.

Singapore is a security growth market

Singapore itself is a strong security growth market. It is expected to record a growth rate of as high as 8 per cent this year and double digit growth for 2008 to 2009 according to Vincent Lim, director of sales and distribution for Bosch security systems in Singapore.
